

We're proud to serve pork from
MEADOWBROOK FARMS.

Farm fresh pork from
America's heartland.

FARMER-OWNED MEANS FARM FRESH PORK™

We know as much about pork as we do about great steaks.

That's why the pork chops on our menu come from Meadowbrook Farms, a nearby farmer-owned cooperative delivering the best-tasting pork you'll ever sink a fork into.

Meadowbrook Farms is smaller than most other pork producers. Their business is rooted in old-fashioned rural values like honesty, integrity, and hard work. And they know that taking things a step slower allows them to pay close attention to detail, just like the generations of farmers before them. The high-quality meat products they provide to America's premier restaurants are the same cuts they serve to their families.

These days, Meadowbrook Farms' commitment to quality is made even stronger by sophisticated animal science and one of the country's most advanced meat processing operations. You might say they're the perfect marriage of tradition and innovation. They put it all together to make sure you get the freshest, most delicious pork money can buy.

Try the pork chops.

We think you'll like them!
